2008 Farm Bill: Food, Conservation and Energy Act

The Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008 (2008 Farm Bill) became law on May 22, 2008

The legislation includes fifteen diverse titles, including broad provisions for conservation, energy and tax policy

Enactment of the bill followed a multiple year process of deliberation and debate yielding a final product with some but not all of the policy recommendations offered by the United States Department of Agriculture

2008 Farm Bill

2008 Farm Bill Highlights

- Increases funding for Conservation programs
- Focuses on Agricultural and Forestry Working Lands
- Expands the Environmental Quality Incentives Program
- Continues the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program
- Adds Hawaii to the Agricultural Management Assistance Program
- Begins FY2009 with an acreage allocation and a ranking system for the Conservation Stewardship Program, offering flexibility as a nationwide program

Conservation Technical Assistance

Delivery of Conservation Technical Assistance (Section 2706)

- This section authorizes the Secretary to provide technical assistance:
 - ✓ To an eligible participant directly
 - ✓ Through an agreement with a third-party provider
 - ✓ or at the option of the eligible participant, through a payment to the eligible participant for an approved third party provider
- Provides authority for contracting with third-party providers for technical assistance
- Defines entities eligible to receive technical assistance under this title

11

USDA NRCS
United States Department of Agriculture
Natural Resources Conservation Service

2008 Farm Bill

- Where financial assistance is not required, allows the Secretary to enter into technical services contracts with program participants
- Authorizes the Secretary to use mandatory funds and multi-year contracts with third party providers, to establish fair and reasonable payment rates, and to ensure a nationally consistent certification process
- Requires the Secretary to review conservation practice standards to ensure that the conservation practices are consistent with local needs
- Directs the Secretary to ensure that adequate technical assistance is made available to producers involved with organic, specialty crop, or precision agriculture production
