BROADBENT RECOGNIZED AS MOST VALUABLE TEAM MEMBER

On June 10, members of the Bonneville Team for Rangeland Planning (Provo, Tooele, Ogden, Heber, Coalville and Murray) honored Lee Broadbent, range conservationist in the Coalville Office, during their meeting. Shane Green, State Range Conservationist, presented Lee an award that read:

"For your exemplary work initiating and coordinating Chalk Creek watershed efforts, providing seamless support to Tooele County between personnel changes, leadership on Echo Creek, and for the many years you carried the Bonneville Team for Rangeland Planning."

While presenting the award, Shane pointed out in an old publication, "SCS Utah Personalities," Lee said, "Before I retire I would like to actually restore a stream and its floodplain to its potential riparian functions." Many present felt Lee had achieved that objective.
