TERESA WILDE APPOINTED NRCS OUTREACH COORDINATOR

Teresa Wilde recently joined the state office staff as outreach coordinator where she will assist statewide NRCS staff with their efforts to identify and contact underserved customers. In this position, she serves as an ex-officio member of the state Civil Rights Advisory Committee. Teresa can be contacted at (801) 524-4554; teresa.wilde@ut.usda.gov.

She has been employed in the private sector and at various levels of governmental service -- including federal, state, county, and municipal positions.

Prior to joining NRCS in October, 2005, Teresa worked in administration, management, law enforcement, and legal and regulatory compliance. She holds a bachelor's degree in Sociology and brings experience in research and analysis, strategic planning, communication and public relations, and employee training and team building. In 2004, she completed the Master of Public Administration program at the University of Utah, graduating with a concentration in policy analysis and program evaluation.

Teresa said, "I am excited to be on staff and I look forward to working with everyone to make sure our program are available to all potential customers in the state." She encourages questions, comments and feedback.
