INTRODUCTION

Thank you for your interest in the USDA/1890 National Scholars Program. The USDA/1890 National Scholars Program was established in 1992 as part of the partnership between the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the eighteen, 1890 Historically Black Land-Grant Universities.

The goal of the USDA/1890 National Scholars Program is to increase the number of minorities studying agriculture, food, natural resource sciences and other related disciplines. Each year, hundreds of students apply for the program that provides full tuition, room, board, internships, and full-time employment upon graduation.

The USDA/1890 National Scholars Program is available to graduating high school seniors up to rising college juniors attending any accredited university in the U.S. Applicants that are high school seniors should complete Section I and college/university students entering their sophomore or junior year of college should complete Section II of the application.

Sincerely,

USDA/1890 National Scholars Programs
