Initial setting: Row crops that are subject to sheet and rill erosion and control of row grades is needed for water management within the field.