“At USDA, we are the People’s Department – we are by and for the people. We represent the diversity of America. USDA is big and vast and diverse – a department full of employees with different backgrounds and beliefs; customers with different experiences and stories. We are bound together by our shared love of serving rural America, working the land, and preserving our nation’s food security. For all our differences, we are one department, drawn together to serve. We are stronger because of our differences, not in spite of them. No matter who you are or what you look like or whom you love, USDA is a place where you can write your own destiny. “
