

Information for Farm Bill Program Applicants & Contractors Using an Employer Identification Number

Introduction

If your business or organization plans to apply for conservation program or grant funding through the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) and you use an Employer Identification Number (EIN), you will need a Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number and must be registered with the System for Award Management (SAM). The DUNS number is required for any federal contract application and applicants must maintain current registration with SAM to receive payments.

If you apply as an individual and/or use your social security number as your TIN, you do NOT need to obtain a DUNS number or SAM.

About the Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS)

A DUNS number is a unique nine-character identification number provided by the commercial company Dun & Bradstreet (D&B), a provider of business information reports. The federal government uses the DUNS number to maintain consistent name and address data about organizations or businesses. This helps maintain and organize applications and contracts across federal agencies.

Who needs a DUNS Number & SAM?

All entities using an EIN and doing business with NRCS must have a DUNS number and current registration in the SAM database. This requirement pertains to ALL financial assistance, stewardship, easement and watershed programs, as well as grants, cooperative agreements and contribution agreements. NRCS requires applicants to obtain the required registrations when applying for programs. Applications cannot be fully processed without this information. There is NO cost for registration. If you already have a DUNS number, you do not need a new one for NRCS. The following table can be used to help determine if applicants need to complete the DUNS/SAM process based on their business and Tax ID type.
